Alma Start for Current Alma Users

Learn how parents can connect their Alma account to a new Alma Start account.

Updated over a year ago

If you are a current Alma user and your school has asked you to complete a form in Alma Start or create an account in Alma Start, follow the steps here access Alma Start.

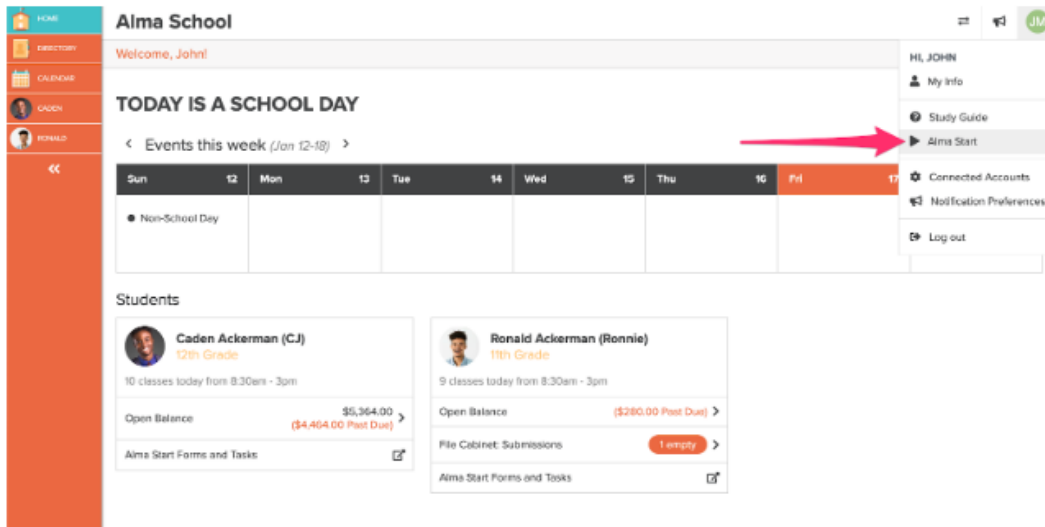

Let's get "START"ed! Your first step is to log in to your Alma dashboard.

You'll notice something new on your dashboard -- after your initial visit to Alma Start this alert will disappear. Click on "Go to Alma Start" or on "Alma Start Forms and Tasks" beneath your student's name.

This screenshot is identical to the one above, showing the Alma School dashboard. It includes the same sidebar, navigation links, 'TODAY IS A SCHOOL DAY' calendar, 'Students' section with Jenima and Morgan Anker, and the 'alma start' logo. A red arrow points to the 'Go to Alma Start' button in the bottom right corner.
